A Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2254 has been submitted to the Court pro se by a state prison inmate.¹ Petitioner is currently confined at the Kershaw Correctional Institution, serving a life sentence on murder, kidnaping, and criminal sexual assault convictions entered in December 1992 following a jury trial. He claims that his convictions were obtained with tainted evidence and resulted from prosecutorial misconduct. Review of this Court's docket discloses that this is at least the third § 2254 Petition addressing these 1992 convictions submitted to this Court by this Petitioner. See Bell v. Moore, Civil Action No. 4:99-2663-GRA (summary judgment for Respondent due to untimeliness; dismissed with prejudice); Bell v. Ozmint, Civil Action No. 8:07-1639-GRA (summarily dismissed as successive).² Petitioner does not indicate anywhere in his Petition, including the attachments thereto, that he requested permission from the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals before filing the Petition in this case.

² Petitioner currently has the summary dismissal of another habeas-type pleadings captioned as petitions for "writ of error coram nobis" and "writ of mandamus" on appeal to the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals. See Bell v. Reynolds, Civil Action No. 8:07-2776.

Under established local procedure in this judicial district, a careful review has been made of the pro se Petition filed in this case. The review was conducted pursuant to the procedural provisions of 28 U.S.C. §§ 1915, 1915A, and the Anti-Terrorism and Effective Death Penalty Act of 1996, and in light of the following precedents: Denton v. Hernandez, 504 U.S. 25 (1992); Neitzke v. Williams, 490 U.S. 319, 324-25 (1989); Haines v. Kerner, 404 U.S. 519 (1972); Nasim v. Warden, Md. House of Corr., 64 F.3d 951 (4th Cir. 1995); Todd v. Baskerville, 712 F.2d 70 (4th Cir. 1983); Boyce v. Alizaduh, 595 F.2d 948 (4th Cir. 1979).

This Court is required to construe pro se petitions liberally. Such pro se petitions are held to a less stringent standard than those drafted by attorneys, Gordon v. Leeke, 574 F.2d 1147, 1151 (4th Cir. 1978), and a federal district court is charged with liberally construing a petition filed by a pro se litigant to allow the development of a potentially meritorious case. Erickson v. Pardus, __ U.S. __, 127 S. Ct. 2197 (2007); Hughes v. Rowe, 449 U.S. 5, 9 (1980); Cruz v. Beto, 405 U.S. 319 (1972). When a federal court is evaluating a pro se petition the petitioner's allegations are assumed to be true. Fine v. City of N.Y., 529 F.2d 70, 74 (2d Cir. 1975). The requirement of liberal construction does not mean that the Court can ignore a clear failure in the pleading to allege facts which set forth a claim currently cognizable in a federal district court. Weller v. Dep't of Social Servs., 901 F.2d 387 (4th Cir. 1990). However, even under this less stringent standard, the Petition submitted in this case is subject to summary dismissal.

If a petition is frivolous or patently absurd on its face, entry of dismissal may be made on the court's own motion without the necessity of requiring a responsive pleading from the government. See Raines v. United States, 423 F.2d 526, 529 (4th Cir. 1970). The Petition filed in this case should be dismissed as successive. A review of this Court's records reveals Petitioner's procedural history in this Court,³ and, as previously stated, shows that Petitioner has already filed at least two, and possibly three, petitions for writ of habeas corpus based on his 1992 convictions and sentences. The first Petition was dismissed with prejudice in August 2000 when the Court adopted a Report and Recommendation ruling in favor of the Respondent on the defense of untimeliness. The Fourth Circuit Court of Appeal agreed with this Court and dismissed the appeal filed by Petitioner. See Bell v. Moore, Civil Action No. 4:99-2663-GRA. The second Petition was dismissed because it was successive and filed without permission from the Fourth Circuit. Petitioner did not appeal that dismissal. See Bell v. Ozmint, Civil Action No. 8:07-1639-GRA.

Chapter 153 of Title 28 of the United States Code provides a statutory framework for federal post-conviction relief from judgments of conviction entered in federal and state courts. Under this framework, individuals convicted of crimes in state courts seek federal habeas corpus relief through 28 U.S.C. § 2254. See In re Vial, 115 F.3d 1192, 1194 (4th Cir. 1997) (footnote omitted). On April 24, 1996, the President of the United States signed into law the Anti-Terrorism and Effective Death Penalty Act of 1996 (the “AEDPA”) which, in part, amended Chapter 153. The AEDPA effected a number of substantial changes regarding the availability of federal post-conviction relief to individuals convicted of crimes in federal and state courts. Of particular importance here are the provisions of the AEDPA codifying and extending judicially constructed limits on the consideration of second and successive applications for collateral relief. See Felker v. Turpin, 518 U.S. 651, 657 (1996). Under the AEDPA, an individual may not file a second or successive § 2254 petition for a writ of habeas corpus (or the equivalent thereof as here) or a second or successive § 2255 motion to vacate sentence without first receiving permission to do so from the appropriate circuit court of appeals. See In re Vial, 115 F.3d at 1194.⁴ The “gatekeeping” mechanism created by the AEDPA added section 2244(3) to provide:

The prospective applicant must file in the court of appeals a motion for leave to file a second or successive habeas application in the district court. § 2244(b)(3)(A). A three-judge panel has 30 days to determine whether the application makes a prima facie showing that the application satisfies the requirements of § 2244(b). § 2244(b)(3)(C); see § 2244(b)(3)(B), (D).

Felker, 518 U.S. at 657.

Because Petitioner did not obtain authorization from the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals to file this Petition, this Court does not have jurisdiction to consider it, and it is subject to summary dismissal without service on the Respondent. See Romandine v. U. S., 206 F.3d 731, 734 (7th Cir. 2000); U.S. v. Key, 205 F.3d 773, 774 (5th Cir. 2000); Hernandez v. Campbell, 204 F.3d 861, 866 (9th Cir. 2000); U. S. v. Barrett, 178 F.3d 34, 41 (1st Cir. 1999); Lopez v. Douglas, 141 F.3d 974, 975-76 (10th Cir. 1998); Williams v. Hopkins, 130 F.3d 333, 336 (8th Cir. 1997); Hill v. Hopper, 112 F.3d 1088, 1089 (11th Cir. 1997).

⁴ Petitioner may be able to present a claim for the first time in a successive habeas petition where the claim relies on a new rule of constitutional law, see 28 U.S.C. § 2244(b)(2)(A), or, if the claim is based on newly discovered evidence, where the Petitioner can make a prima facie showing of both cause and prejudice within the meaning of § 2244(b)(2)(B)(i) and § 2244(b)(2)(B)(ii). See Evans v. Smith, 220 F.3d 306, 323 (4th Cir. 2000). Petitioner is advised that “[t]he grant or denial of an authorization by a court of appeals to file a second or successive application shall not be appealable and shall not be the subject of a petition for rehearing or for a writ of certiorari.” § 2244(b)(3)(E).

RECOMMENDATION

Accordingly, it is recommended that the Petition for a Writ of Habeas Corpus in this case be dismissed without prejudice and without issuance and service of process upon Respondent. See Toney v. Gammon, 79 F.3d 693, 697 (8th Cir. 1996) (a petition may be summarily dismissed if the record clearly indicates that petitioner's claims are either barred from review or without merit); Allen v. Perini, 424 F.2d 134, 141 (6th Cir. 1970) (federal district courts have duty to screen habeas corpus petitions and eliminate burden placed on respondents caused by ordering an unnecessary answer or return). Petitioner's attention is directed to the important notice on the next page.

Notice of Right to File Objections to Report and Recommendation

The parties are advised that they may file specific written objections to this Report and Recommendation with the District Court Judge. Objections must specifically identify the portions of the Report and Recommendation to which objections are made and the basis for such objections. In the absence of a timely filed objection, a district court judge need not conduct a de novo review, but instead must “only satisfy itself that there is no clear error on the face of the record in order to accept the recommendation.” Diamond v. Colonial Life & Acc. Ins. Co., 416 F.3d 310 (4th Cir. 2005).

Specific written objections must be filed within ten (10) days of the date of service of this Report and Recommendation. 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1); Fed. R. Civ. P. 72(b). The time calculation of this ten-day period excludes weekends and holidays and provides for an additional three (3) days for filing by mail. Fed. R. Civ. P. 6(a) & (e). Filing by mail pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 5 may be accomplished by mailing objections to:

Failure to timely file specific written objections to this Report and Recommendation will result in waiver of the right to appeal from a judgment of the District Court based upon such Recommendation. 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1); Thomas v. Arn, 474 U.S. 140 (1985); U. S. v. Schronce, 727 F.2d 91 (4th Cir. 1984); Wright v. Collins, 766 F.2d 841 (4th Cir. 1985).
